

INCIDENT INVESTIGATION

Prevention is better “and cheaper” than cure... This course will teach the student how to conduct a thorough investigation and analysis of an incidents, both actual events and near misses, for the purposes of identifying causes and making recommendations to prevent the incident from happening again. The objective is to continually improve the safety in your workplace, preventing unnecessary and costly downtime and improving staff morale and productivity.

FTS Safety’s course will sharpen your investigation skills and teach you to think critically about how to implement control measures in the workplace. Lodging claims for compensation with the Compensation Commissioner is included in the training.

Duration: 1 Day

Legislation: Sections 17 and 18 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act

Objectives: Delegates credited with this unit standard will be able to demonstrate the ability to conduct investigations into workplace incidents. The competency includes all the activities required to successfully conduct incident investigations.

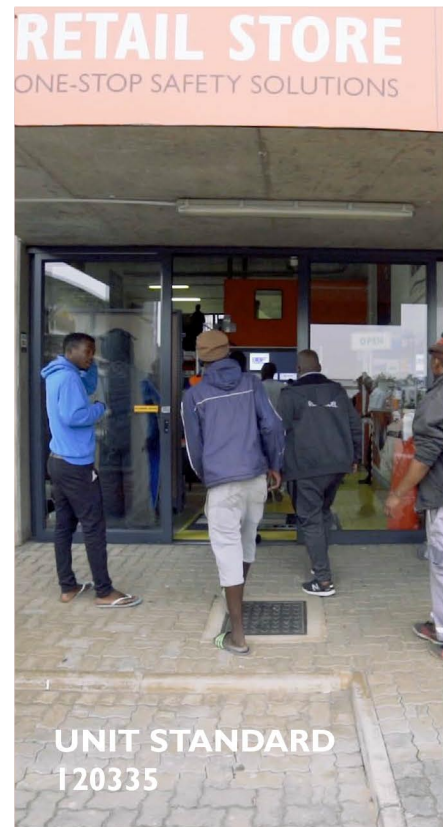

SUBJECT AREAS

- Types of Incidents that need to be reported
- Reasons for reluctance to report Incidents
- Ethical practices when conducting an Investigation
- The tools used in Incident Investigation
- The process and sequence
- The compilation of Annexure 1 form followed by workshop exercise
- Witnesses and Interviews
- Documents and Templates
- Related costs and group exercise

WHAT YOU GET

The above-mentioned is projected graphically, is interactive and workshop orientated to ensure enhanced comprehension by all learners.

Course Participants will be provided with stationery, manuals and workbooks and refreshments. Upon success certificates will be issued.

BENEFITS

Certification & Accreditation on completion

Graphic and Interactive course design

Designed for positive practical results

Guaranteed value or you don't pay

Qualifies for training insurance

